

INVENTORY OF HOUSEHOLD SURVEYS

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

What information sources were considered?

Official surveys from Ministries of Education or National Statistical Offices and international organizations (UNICEF, World Bank, among others) were used in the preparation of the inventory.

Which surveys have been included?

Surveys containing educational data conducted on households. Census data and non-household surveys were excluded.

What data can be found in the links?

The links point to the surveys microdata or, if not available, to the web pages of the offices in charge of carrying out the surveys.

What happens if the survey was conducted between two different years?

As a general criterion, the survey is placed in the last reported year. And in the name of the survey it is clarified that the survey is between two years.

What happens if a survey is carried out more than once a year (e.g. quarterly, semi-annually)?

The survey is counted as one for that year and if there are several sources of metadata, they are all displayed.

What happens if a survey was not carried out in the whole country but in a subnational region?

As a general criterion, it is sought that the surveys be nationally representative. However, when it is necessary to report data from a subnational region, its name is specified within the name of the survey.
